

College Principal

L12 – L16 (Inner London) c£63k - £69k

Phoenix Autism Trust is embarking on the next stage of its journey as a Further Education College for students with special educational needs and disabilities (SEND). The Trust is looking to appoint a dynamic Principal to lead the organisation's ambitious growth strategy to meet the needs of increased demand for places. To get there, we're looking to solidify our foundations and strengthen our curriculum, systems and structures so that we are ready to meet this growth.

The Trust was established by Phoenix School in 2015 to meet the needs of their students who were unable to continue in mainstream FE colleges. It had been operating with the local FE college for five years. In September 2019, it started the Project Search programme in collaboration with Queen Mary University and in September 2020 it was designated by the EFSA as a Special Post-16 Institution and opened 'Phoenix College'.

In January 2021, the college moved to its new premises and we will seek to develop the space so that it can meet the needs of its evolving curriculum. The building will be shared with the Phoenix Outreach, Research & Development Centre and will provide opportunities for work-related learning for our students. The curriculum is designed to support young people towards independent living and/or employability and the timetable is reflective of these pathways.

Being a new and small provision your responsibilities will include day to day leadership and management of the site and staff, strategic development, meeting growth targets, financial responsibility and accountability, quality improvements and setting the foundations for a fully independent specialist FE College for the future.

The College will be part of the Phoenix School community which is an Outstanding school (Ofsted 2018, 2013, 2008) and one of the largest SEN schools in the country, the school provides education for over 430 children and young people, all with Education and Health Care Plans (EHCP), aged from 3 to 19 years, with a significant number of children on the waiting list.

Whilst developing the full independence of the college, we also acknowledge the support structures in place that are available across the different organisations and believe this relationship will be invaluable to the development of our young people and the work that we do.

We are looking for a dynamic leader that can drive the College forward to ensure the best possible outcomes for our young people. You will have experience in Further Education preferably with extensive knowledge of SEND but more important is experience in a leadership position with significant outcomes. This will be a strategic role with a requirement to get hands-on during its infancy and development stage.

Candidates are strongly encouraged to arrange a visit or video call with Stewart Harris, Executive Head Teacher. Please contact:

Message from Executive Headteacher

Dear Candidate,

I would like to thank you for your interest in the role of Principal of Phoenix College. This is an exciting time to join us as we embark on the next stage of our journey for Phoenix College. We are hugely ambitious and committed to making a real difference to the lives of the children we work with and their families.

Phoenix has always been at the forefront of special needs education and we have had significant growth and development over the last few years. We currently provide College Education for 26 students alongside 430 children and young people in our school and we support a further 700 in mainstream schools.

We have an excellent reputation in the education of children and young people with autism and we regularly participate in research with our partner universities. We share our good practice with other schools and colleges nationally and internationally including governments and education authorities. Following several years of work in Bangladesh, the Phoenix Charitable Trust opened a model school in the Sylhet region of Bangladesh.

The college has established good practices over five years and we want to develop this further. The Principal will play a key part in future developments, making us as efficient and dynamic as possible. As well as establishing the right structures and processes to do this, our Principal will drive plans to expand, and influence world class education for young people with special educational needs and disabilities. We expect the principal to be hands-on during the first stages as get we get the college started but we expect that there will be rapid growth to enable the Principal to further develop the team for the college. The Principal will have an opportunity to draw on the skills and experience of colleagues across Phoenix.

Since 2019, the Trust has run Project SEARCH in partnership with Queen Mary University. Project SEARCH's training and job placements offer an unparalleled success rate for young adults with special educational needs and disabilities. We have had a successful pilot year and we are looking to now further develop this to allow as many young people the opportunity for sustainable employment.

We have huge energy across Phoenix to ensure our children and young people are successful and well-prepared for adult life. If you share our commitment to making a positive difference to the young people at Phoenix and their families we would be pleased to hear from you.

Please take your time to read through the information available here, and should you have any questions please contact our school. I strongly encourage you to come and visit the college.

Yours faithfully,

Stewart Harris
